HOW TO MAKE FRUIT TREES BLOSSOM.—In an exchange we find the following statement of an experience in producing fruit blossoms:
I wish to describe a method of making fruit trees bear that I blundered on. Some years ago I had a small apple tree that leaved considerably. I drove a stake beside it, tied a string to a limb and fastened it to the stake. The next year that limb blossomed full, and not another blossom appeared on that tree; and, as Tom Barker said, "it set me to thinking," and I came to the conclusion that the string was so tight that it prevented the sap from returning to the roots; consequently it formed fruit buds. Having a couple of pear trees that were large enough to bear, but had never blossomed, I took coarse twine, wound it round the tree several times above the lower limbs, and tied it as tight as I could. The next Spring all above the cord blossomed as white as a sheet, and there was not one blossom below where the cord was tied. I have since tried the experiment on several trees with almost the same result. I think it a much better way than cutting off the roots. In early Summer, say June or July, wind a strong cord around the tree, or single limb, and tie it, the tighter the better, and you will be pleased with the result. The next Winter or Spring the cord may be taken off.

PARADISE VALLEY.—Henry Hinkey and Judge Bonfield, who have been out on a hunting excursion to Paradise valley, report that the bottom, which is now covered with water from a few inches to two or three feet in depth for a distance of ten or twelve miles in length and from a quarter to half a mile wide, is literally alive with ducks, geese and cranes. They keep in the center of the lake however, and it is very difficult to get at them. Among the ducks are canvas backs, mallards and teal. The water has not yet reached the toll-house, but Tom shone is daily expecting it, and has several guns loaded for duck hunting. On the east side of the Valley, large bands of cattle have been fattened during the Winter on the nutritious hay which grows in that section, affording the farmers a home market for their hay crop. On the way home, they passed four bands of fat beavers, which are being driven here for shipment to San Francisco. They claim to have killed a wagon load of ducks above the Toll House and attribute the fact of not bringing any to town to the bull-dozing propensities of the Toll House keeper.—Silver State, 14th.

"Ma, why don't you speak?" said little Jake. "Why don't you say anything funny?" "What can I say funny? Don't you see, I am busy frying doughnuts!" "Well, you might say, 'Jake, want you hev a doughnut?' That'd be funny for you."

An English mechanic has contrived to make a steam engine do its own stoking. A large sheet iron hopper is set above the mouth of the furnace and in front of the boiler. This is the receptacle for coals. Below the hopper a steel crusher is made to run somewhat rapidly, and, as the coals fall by reason of their own gravity upon this grinding apparatus, they are reduced to the uniform size of cobnuts by the action of the crusher. Thence the equalized fuel drops upon a pair of fans inclosed in a box, and running in opposite directions at a high velocity. The fans are in fact the furnace feeders, for as the box has but one opening, and that leads to the fire, they literally blow the coals into the latter and distribute them equally over the whole surface of the fire bars. The feed is regulated in quantity according to the heavy or light work the engine may be doing, by means of a single adjusted set screw. This is the automaton stoker. The furnace fires are fed and steam is kept up in the boiler without the turning of a shovel, and all the fireman has to do is to smoke his pipe and whistle "Down in a coal mine."

CALIFORNIA LION.—It is reported to us that a huge California lion of great strength and size and of unlimited capacity as to appetite, is roaming around on the outskirts of Grass Valley seeking whom he may devour. It is supposed that this lion is especially in love with boys who stay away from home late at nights, who play hockey and roam around on the hills in the day time, who sit on the logs in the pine groves and play bean poker, who are away from their homes or other places where they should be, and that the beast so loves all such boys that he will not hesitate to take them into his own furry jacket. This lion is no myth. He has even shown a disposition to attack grown men. The first appearance of the savage brute, as reported to us, was made last Sunday night. If he is in pursuit of the kind of boys we have spoken of above he will find himself in a field where the harvest is bountiful, and he will not be able to gather in and save the whole crop unless he gets help.—G. V. Union.

THE ELECTRIC PEN.—The electric pen invented by Thomas A. Edison, of New Jersey, consists of a metallic tube, in the centre of which a small needle is reciprocated by means of a small electro-magnetic engine placed on top of the pen. The pen being held in an upright position and moved over the paper, the rapidly succeeding thrusts of the needle cause the surface of the paper to become penetrated with the characters which the hand has traced. After the writing is finished nothing but a faint line appears on the surface of the paper, but on holding it up to the light the writing is clearly visible. This sheet, which is called the stencil, is then placed over a sheet of plain paper in a frame, and an inked roller passed over it; the ink penetrating the holes in the stencil transmits the written matter to the clean sheet. In this way five hundred fac-simile copies of the original writing can be taken, each copy being very clear and distinct.

MIND YOUR P's.—Persons who patronize papers should pay promptly, for the pecuniary prospects of the press have a peculiar power in pushing forward public prosperity. If the printer is paid promptly, and his pocket-book kept plenteous by prompt-paying patrons, he puts his pen to the paper in peace; his paragraphs are more pointed; he paints his pictures of passing events in more pleasant colors and the perusal of his paper is of more pleasure to his people. Paste this piece of proverbial philosophy in some place where all persons can perceive it.—Santa Rosa Times.

Improve Your Homes.

"A man who has no human ties has little to bind him to religion or humanity. Society has no security for his good conduct; but with each little soul that comes into being of his blood, he gives pledges to God and man."—Ex.

It would be well if every parent would take this truth well to heart, and realize what it means. Many an outcast who is despised by his fellows, owes his worthless position to the fact that no ties were woven about him, no allegiance claimed, no cheerful home provided where he might turn for consolation and rest. The relations of man to man, make up the spirit of law and order. Legislation is founded upon the proprieties of life, and finds its strength and moral support in those human ties which bind humanity and give security for good conduct.

Good homes do not produce society's outcasts, nor do they in any way strengthen man's evil tendencies. The model home underlies and is the foundation of all law and government; it strengthens and quickens honorable usage, guards its members against temptations and gives to society its rarest ornaments. Our homes determine the character of everything of the Individual State and Nation. The secret of Germany's success in the world of intelligence is found in her quiet methodical homes. France has gained her giddy name from disregard of the sacred of rights home, and the abiding strength of our own free land is to be found not in her statesmen; not in her wealth and multiplying industries; not in her broad territory and native wealth, but in the sacred precincts of home, where honest fathers and mothers are rearing the pledges of their affection. Where they are living, struggling and toiling for the children who are to stand in their places. Where they are prayerfully weaving those human ties which are to hold them in the path of right and make them worthy founders of future homes, and zealous teachers of children yet to come.

It is certainly rich consolation for good men and women that they may live again in their children. Like a tree borne upon good soil they brave the winds and storms of Winter as best they may, and come at last upon some bright Spring morn to blossom. Then is the tree beautiful, just as when the Good Maker sends little children to blossom upon the tree of wedlock, and multiply the love and beauties of home. The tree feeds the little flower, conserves all of its energy, protects and shades it, and as a result of this care the swelling bud appears telling us that when the autumn shall come this little flower will have changed to fruit, having value and usefulness in itself.

Cultivate your homes, conserve its energy, feed your children upon good mental food. Make home cheerful, comfortable and merry. So shall you find when Autumn has come, that ripe fruit has grown from this goodly home tree. Sons and daughters shall comfort you, who in turn will nourish and perfect the blossoms and fruit of the years to come.

Another Victim.

Richard Rising has held the District Bench in Storey County for the last sixteen years, and in his capacity as expounder of the law has been quoted throughout the State as unimpeachable authority. His decision to-day on the Bullion Tax, whereby the State gets both tax and penalty, certainly stands as his opinion of justice and right. If this be "intelligent reasoning," we would the Enterprise to abuse him. We want the Enterprise to abuse him. We would attempt it ourselves, but not being skilled in the unscrupulous use of epithets and art of genteel blackguardism, we give the task over to the Leading Paper. Its editor no doubt sees that Judge Rising is "no longer able to reason intelligently," and has an "unreasonable hate against wealth." Absolution and expediency, those frail crutches upon which you have limped about for the past few months, are gone, and your only resource is to hiss. Let's have your best efforts in the line of Billingsgate, for that is your forte; you have substituted scurrility and discourtesy for the other methods, and we believe that you will be consistent. We listen.

The State Wins.

Kings Trampled Under Foot—Judge Rising "unable to Reason Intelligently."

A friend in Virginia telegraphs us to-day as follows:

VIRGINIA, March 15—12:05 P. M. In mining tax suit's judgment for State. Tax and penalty.

This is a brief yet concise account of the last high-handed outrage perpetrated against the Bonanza Kings. The decision was rendered in the District Court by Judge Richard Rising, whose election the Enterprise urged upon the ground of his eminent legal ability, pointing to the fact that his decisions always stood the tests of the highest courts in the land. The Enterprise's opinion as to Judge Rising's record and qualifications is endorsed by the best legal talent of the State, and we do not feel like dissenting, although a tear escapes us at the sorrows of the Bonanza Kings. And now, while the subject is open, we will give the Enterprise another small quid of sea-weed to chew upon. Judge Rising, whom the Kingly organ does not dare to impeach, has decided that the tax is just legally, and can be collected. The State and Storey county needs all of this money—then certainly it is expedient to collect it. When driven from the ground of justice, legality and expediency, where does the Enterprise stand? The suit involves about $300,000, and the penalty is 35 per cent. It may go to the Supreme Court of the State, and if this should happen we will give odds and wager an amateur job press against the Enterprise's self-respect, that the State wins by a unanimous decision.

The New Game Law.

The amended Game Law, which passed the last Session forbids the trapping of quail, or any interference with their nests. It shall be unlawful for any person to catch or kill a prairie chicken before September 1st 1879. It shall be unlawful to catch or kill game birds of any kind between the 1st day of April and the 1st day of September of each year. It shall be unlawful for any person to catch, kill or have in his possession, any deer, elk, antelope, mountain sheep or goat between the 1st day of January and the 1st day of July of each year. The limit of penalty is $200 fine, and 6 months imprisonment. The Act also protects at all times, sparrows, blue birds, blue jays, thrushes, mocking birds, swallows, red breasts, cat bird, rovers and humming birds.

This is a condensed statement of the provisions of the Act, and we recommend that sportsmen preserve it for future reference. The bill also makes it unlawful to buy, from Indians even, any of the game birds, while the law is in force. The law is a good one, but one point troubles us. Who was the blue jay's champion? We never could see any particular usefulness in that animal, and always considered him a natural villain and thief.

In ancient history we are told That Midas' touch turned anything to gold; But we to-day a stranger thing behold— Men turn to anything when touched with gold!

—Scribner's for March.

This fits Nevada circumstances exactly, only we come cheaper. Silver, although at a discount, is found amply sufficient to turn the average Nevada man into a Russian serf. Silver will make votes, opinions, laws, amendments, Senators and newspapers—but it won't make men.

TELEGRAPHIC.

A Herald's Washington special of yesterday says: Judge Mackey says this evening, concerning Patterson's plan for a new election, that he is authorized to speak for Hampton, and to say that he would utterly refuse to agree to a new election, as not only was he elected, but his title has been affirmed by the courts.

A Washington correspondent says: Patterson's plan has been submitted, in place of a mission to the South headed by Vice President Wheeler, and is well received. Patterson says that if Hampton and Nicholls don't accept it, Hayes will recognize their opponents. Southern Democrats unitedly oppose the proposition.

Hayes says that he will not encourage the proposition unless both parties are in favor of it. He will, however, receive from representatives men of both parties any suggestions in writing which they may have to make.

The President sent the nomination of Lot. M. Morrill to the Senate yesterday, as Collector of Customs for the Districts of Portland and Falmouth, Maine. Morrill is understood to have been offered the appointment of Minister to England, or other first-class country, but preferred to remain in his own State. The Senate in executive session confirmed Morrill's nomination immediately. The place to which Morrill is appointed is worth from six to eight thousand dollars per annum. Blaine recommended the appointment.

A Washington special says Morton will not report his resolution admitting Kellogg at this session. An extra session of Congress is regarded as unavoidable.

Packard's last communication to Washington takes peremptorily the ground that he will retire at nothing less than Hayes' declaration that his [Packard's] title is bad. In default of this, he asks that Hayes, as President, support him as Governor. Chamberlain takes a more conciliatory attitude. He is willing to negotiate on the basis of a small office, and wants his election expenses ($100,000) reimbursed.

A New York Times' special claims all the Congressmen for the Republicans in New Hampshire, while others give Jones (Dem.) the First District.

Madison Wells appeared before the Southern Claims Committee yesterday regarding his claim for over $500,000 for alleged losses during the war. This has been rejected in Congress and ought to be rejected by this Committee.

The English Cabinet have not yet decided what action to take on the protocol of the Powers on the Eastern question.

The foreign representatives, particularly the British Charge d'Affaires, are endeavoring to effect an arrangement between the Porte and the Montenegrin delegates, but the latter are only disposed to make slight concessions, provided the Porte concedes their principal demands.

The Scotch Presbyterians are making extensive preparations for a great Pan Presbyterian Council. $75,000 is to be raised to bear the expenses. Colonists from all parts of the world will be in attendance.

BRITISH SOLDIERS.—It is reported that the British Government has obtained permission from the Federal authorities to send twenty-four hundred soldiers across the continent from New York to San Francisco. They are ordered to British Columbia, and to avoid the long voyage around Cape Horn in transport vessels, will be sent by rail through the United States. They are expected to leave for their destination some time this month. We believe there has not been a regiment of British soldiers on United States soil since Old Hickory—by the eternal—whipped Packingham at New Orleans January 8th, 1815. It is not yet known when they will be along, as they have not yet arrived at New York.—Silver State, 14th.

Our Comstock exchanges continue to abuse Governor Bradley for vetoing the Compromise Tax bill. That business may pay, and probably does, but there are other ways of getting rich, gentlemen, besides cravelling on your hands and knees to Plutus.—R. R. Revelle.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

GHOST AT PYRAMID.—We were credibly informed to-day by a gentleman just from Pyramid, of a sensation which has taken the peaceful district by the ears. The Infant Mining Company are working two shifts of men on their 300 foot tunnel. One night last week E. Dennis and Mr. Schoonover, who were at work in the tunnel, fired the fuse to a blast and were leaving the tunnel when they saw passing ahead of them and in the same direction, a ghost about 6 feet high, a turban on its head and huge black whiskers attached to its face. Dennis said its eyes were as big as his fists. When the men wheeled right out this ghost went ahead of them, and then followed them in. For five nights these men stood fire, and then Messrs. Jones, Williams and Brown spent part of an evening in the tunnel, waiting the appearance of the aforesaid ghost. Sure enough, along came the monster. The men were well armed and meant to do him much bodily harm, but their revolvers and shot guns proved of little service. The ghost disappeared, but left no part or parcel of himself behind. The next night Dennis and Schoonover saw the same ghost, not a particle mutilated, but as vigorous as ever. This aroused the camp, and ten men, armed to the teeth, and carrying about their persons sundry articles, such as a blanket, a pack of cards and several drinks, proceeded to the ghostly spot. They played cards and were so hilarious that the ghosts did not put in an appearance. These proceedings so exorcised the evil one that he has not been seen since that time. Mr. Walker informed one of the Trustees of the state of affairs at the Infant, and the mine directors propose to look after his ghostship to-morrow. We hope this matter will be promptly attended to. Bridges, one of the mine owners, refuses to work in the mine on the night shift. The camp is aroused, and we tremble with joy over the prospect of a serious local from that flourishing mining section. We deeply regret that this ominous affair should occur just at the opening of Spring operations at Pyramid, but trust that the demon may take his flight and peace and quiet once more prevail at the Comstock of Washoe county.

601.—We saw a 601 note which was received this morning by Wm. —, who is a witness in the pending Mrs. Miller trial. The following is a copy of the note:

HEADQUARTERS "601,"
March 14.

Wm. —: You are again, and for the last time, notified to leave Reno within 12 hours from to-morrow noon (March 15th). Take warning without fail, as no further notice will be given you until you return within 6 months.

By order of the Committee,
[601.] 76, Secretary.

The above was written in a legible but awkward hand, and on the same kind of paper on which funeral notices are printed. We know nothing of the circumstances of this case, nor anything of the order 601, but they evidently mean business. We do not believe there is any necessity for the order, but we know there is a strong feeling in the community against a suspicious class. We believe the law strong enough and entirely sufficient to maintain public peace and afford protection to our citizens. We deprecate the policy of taking the administration of justice out of rightful hands, and private citizens themselves summarily judging a man's case. Due provision has been made for meting out justice, and our little town does not need a "601" organization. We have had some tough citizens here, and we have a few left. They are watched by our officers and will receive due legal attention whenever occasion requires. However, we advise those who have received notices to obey the behest and leave town. It is useless to fight singly against a united and unseen foe.

AMATEURS.—This evening the popular drama of Ten Nights in a Bar Room will be presented at the Opera House. Our citizens have been programmed and are already acquainted with the charitable object of the entertainment as well as with the persons who take part in it. We have been informed by a number of their intention of going, and we presume that the Opera House will be crowded by 8 o'clock this evening.

Pyramid.

From Mr. Butcher of Pyramid Mining District we learn the following information of the mines in that section:

The shaft of the Mayberry and Butcher mine is down 135 feet. The ledge increases in size as the shaft is sunk lower and the quartz has a livelier appearance.

Work on the Gregory and Maple claim has been commenced and the tunnel is now in about 100 feet. Gen. Clarke has become interested in this mine and that means that the work will continue.

The Pyramid mine is showing a good hand and give most favorable indications of proving a good mine.

The Adriatic shaft is down about 60 feet. It rapidly fills with water, however, which, with the Company's present facilities, materially interferes with the working of the mine.

Work has been suspended for the present on the Gamble, Black Hawk and Buckley claims.

Mr. Stevens is hard at work on the Red Rover and thinks that he will strike the ledge soon.

Yesterday morning Mr. Williams started his little quartz mill to work, crushing ore from the Venetian.

The camp is now active with preparations for a heavy Spring and Summer's work on the various claims.

Those who have had considerable mining experience say that the rock is there and that Pyramid District is bound to come to the front.

One needed thing in the District is a good 10 or 15-stamp quartz mill. The present one has only two stamps and gives the richest tailings of any mill in the State. Pyramid needs to be taken hold of by capital, and of course will be in time should the claims prove as valuable as the present owners believe them to be.

FIGHT.—This morning about seven o'clock, E. A. Lovejoy, while passing Mr. Nathan's clothing store, saw Wolf Peyser sitting in front, and resolved on testing his muscle. In the struggle Wolf was hit by a rock or something harder than a fist on the chin. The row was soon over and Peyser had his chin attended to and Lovejoy arrested. The latter gave bonds of $50 for his appearance in court a day or two hence. Lovejoy was one of the boxers and warblers in the exhibition of the "manly art" by Montana Charley, Bang up Williams, and other "artists" given at the Opera House last November.

None but the best brands of Smoking and Chewing Tobacco kept at E. Meyer's New Cigar Store.

A CARD.—The undersigned feels that he should acknowledge in a public manner the gratitude which he owes to Mrs. H. Anderson for her careful and efficient attendance upon his wife during her late illness. The debt incurred is greater than I can pay, but feel it a duty that I should make public my appreciation of her skill and care.

PHILLIP RUSSAK.

J. F. Gladding, of Wadsworth, dropped in upon us this afternoon. He says Wadsworth is dull as a hoe, but times may be lively most any time, as two of the "601" Reno chaps are in the burg.

Clear Havana Cigars, two for 25 cents, at E. Meyer's New Cigar Store.

An old resident of Washoe Valley named Hughes, while out duck shooting last Saturday, was shot by a Franktown Frenchman, who claims that he mistook Hughes for a silver fox. The old gentleman was well peppered about his face and shoulder with duck shot, but his wounds are not dangerous.—Va. Chronicle.

Eight carloads of emigrants passed through to-day and inquired for the Enterprise as the only Nevada paper which can "reason intelligibly."

Go to the Reno Opera House this evening and witness a good entertainment, "Ten Nights in a Bar-room."

E. Meyer makes a specialty of Bit Cigars. Those who have tried them smoke them again.

The Pioche Record needs the Enterprise's attention. It can't "reason intelligibly."

For a genuine imported Havana Cigar go to E. Meyer in J. E. Jones & Co.'s old Bank.

AT THE OLD STAND.—Pat Kellier has sold the Branch Saddle Rock and returned to the Saddle Rock original, next to the International hotel. This change has been made solely because Pat found himself unable to tend to both places with sufficient care. He prides himself upon his close attention to business and the large number of patrons which he has gained thereby. He now asks a continuance of past favors at the Saddle Rock and promises to deserve them more than ever. Old patrons only need to know the location while new comers are referred to the Saddle Rock for trial. Any man who is not satisfied will go free of charge. Pat points with pride to the number of fat men now roaming our streets, and confesses that his famous Eastern oysters and made dinners have done the work. Call at the Saddle Rock and you may be assured of good treatment and the best which the market affords.

SUPERIOR IRON HARROW.—I have a harrow which I offer to the public, which I think exceeds anything in the harrow line. It is made entirely of the best Norway wrought iron, except the points of the teeth, which are tipped with four inches of the best steel. My harrow will cover grain or grass seed, being made to run deep into the ground or pass lightly over it. Another superiority which I claim for it is, that it has no dead motion like wooden harrows, which, when passing over the ground it has a swinging motion, which very much increases its efficiency. On the upper side are two bows or runners on which the harrow may glide smoothly along when it is being removed from one field to another. Any size desired promptly made to order.

"I never can enjoy poetry when I'm cooking," said an old lady; "but when I step out to feed the hogs, and h't myself on the fence and throw my soul into a few lines of 'Cap'n Jinks,' it does seem as if this airth was made to live on after all."

It was at a party, and another fellow had marched off triumphantly with his girl. "That's the way," said he, sadly; "it isn't merit that wins in this world, it's brass watch-chains and paste diamonds and dyed mustaches." And he swallowed down his Adam's apple fully three times before it would stay, such was his grief.

A Virginia hunter says he saw about 700,000 ducks settle on a pond. They were wedged closely together. He fired both barrels of his gun into them. They flew away, leaving no dead ones in the water; but as soon as the flock spread out a little, dead ducks loosened and fell until he picked up enough to fill twenty-nine barrels.

The Brotherhood of Engineers was formed thirteen years ago. It now embraces 189 subdivisions and 12,000 regular members in all parts of the United States and Canada. It provides for the widows and children of dead brethren, and since its organization has expended more than $1,000,000 in this work, besides donating $50,000 to aid needy members. Only locomotive engineers are eligible for membership, and a death the family receives $3,000 cash.

Sheriff's Sale.

BY VIRTUE of an interlocutory decree and judgment rendered April 16th, 1875, by the District Court of the Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, held in and for the county of Washoe, and now affirmed by the Supreme Court of said State, and by virtue of a certified copy of the said decree and judgment on the 13th day of March, A. D. 1877, and under and by virtue of a deed to me executed and delivered, of the premises hereinafter described, by the several parties to said decree, which said decree was rendered in a certain suit pending in said above entitled court, wherein B. F. Rhodes is plaintiff and James A. Williams and Maria Williams, his wife, are defendants, and by which said decree the Sheriff of Washoe county is made a Receiver, and directed, as Sheriff and Receiver, to sell at public auction in view of the premises, and cash, such premises, by absolute sale without redemption and on payment of the purchase money to me to execute an absolute deed of said premises to such purchaser or purchasers thereof, and place such purchaser or purchasers in immediate possession of said premises, and remove all persons therefrom claiming said premises under all or any of the parties to said aforesaid suit on the 30th day of December, A. D. 1873, when notice of the pendency of this action was filed in the office of the County Recorder of Washoe county in said State. Williams and Maria Williams, his wife, and all the equities of said copartnership and defendants and each of them and of any person or persons who may have obtained rights or claims to said premises since the filing of the pendency of the aforesaid action on the 30th day of December, 1873, and thereupon place such purchaser or purchasers in possession of the immediate possession of said premises, removing therefrom the defendants and any and all persons claiming by, through or under them or either of them, by their agreement made subsequent to the 30th day of December, A.
